

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT,
PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.,
THIRD STREET,
East side, between Market and Jefferson streets.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING NOTICE.—All advertisements of Public Meetings, Masonic, Odd Fellows, Firemen's, &c., are charged fifty cents per square of ten inches, and twenty-five cents per square for each subsequent insertion.

NOTICE.—ADVERTISEMENTS OF SICKNESS, Deaths, Births, Marriages, and Obituary Notices, of five lines or less, are charged twenty-five cents each insertion.

NOTICE.—ADVERTISEMENTS OF DEATHS, Funerals, &c., are inserted in the evening edition at half price.

ALL TRANSMIT ADVERTISEMENTS PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.

MONDAY, - - SEPTEMBER 17, 1855.

Abolitionists.

The readers of the Louisville Journal are aware that he is an Abolitionist. In this he has always been consistent, and it is the only political subject upon which he has not stoered to all points of the compass. What measure has the South advocated that he has not opposed, commencing with the annexation of Texas and coming down to the Kansas-Nebraska bill? What Whig South that faltered in his party fidelity out of regard for the honor of his own section, has not been denounced by the editor of the Journal? When did he denounce the movement of Northern Whigs against any Southern policy? When did the editor of the Journal fail to make an excuse for a Northern Whig who showed his Abolitionism by his votes or speeches? And where is the Northern man now who stood up for the Kansas-Nebraska bill who has not been denounced by the editor of the Journal? What is he doing now? Every intelligent man who has kept up with the current news of the day knows that the self-styled American party North are Abolitionists. They are in every State North openly united with the Abolitionists, except in the State of New York, and there they are anti-Nebraska—united with the Abolitionists in their general movement.

In Ohio, they support the whole Abolition ticket, and filled the Convention that nominated it—a few getting up a small division on the Governor, not because Chase is an Abolitionist, but because of personal opposition. Everywhere else they and the Abolitionists are one party.

The editor of the Journal knows this. He is not deceived. He knows that the American party North is but a portion of the anti-slavery party. They have elected to Congress more than Abolitionists, pledged to the very measures that the South abhors. Once in a while the editor denounces Abolitionists in the abstract; that is for his Southern readers. But with a consistency that knows no wavering, he finds some excuse to oppose what Abolitionists oppose, and some excuse to denounce men North that they denounce. In this way he betrays, with a persevering constancy, the under-current of his sympathies.

Over in Indiana there are but two parties now—the Democrats, who, in their Conventions, speeches, &c., sustain the South, and the Republican party, including the Know-Nothings. Which party has the sympathies of the editor of the Journal?

In short, the editor of the Journal is now united in party affiliation with the enemies of the South, and the malignant opponent of the only party in the free States that stands as a bulwark against the surges of the Abolition flood. We might set down his present course to the inextricable desire to rule America, but the aid and comfort to Abolitionism is only in accordance with the proclivities he has shown all his life. The defeat of the Democratic party in the North now, involves the subjection of the South to the demands of the Republican party, as it is called, or a dissolution of the Union. This is palpable to every intelligent man. The shining sun never made an object pander. Men who have not watched the political movements of the past twelve months may be deceived, but the editor of the Journal cannot be. He knows it.

The other day he wrote a panie-making article on the state of the country. Who are putting the country in peril and agitation—Abolitionists, united with the Know-Nothings. Let them be crushed out by the great Democratic party of the North, and the peril is over. What is the issue? The tangible issue, that it is to perish the Union. It is the simple question whether Kansas, if she comes to Congress with a Constitution sanctioning slavery, shall be admitted into the Union. Show us the men sent to Congress by the combination of Abolitionists and Know-Nothings who are not pledged against it. Show us a Know-Nothing State Council that is not pledged against it. Even New York, the only State where the Know-Nothings South thought they had a pog to hang a hope upon, denounced the repeal of the Missouri compromise, and resolved that slavery should not profit by it. This is the practical issue, the point of the sectional contest, the rock on which the ship of State is to be wrecked. And yet the editor of the Journal, who knows these facts, is telling the South that his party is national. What are such falsehoods for, but to mislead the South—lead her to mistake enemies for friends, and sacrifice herself by her folly.

There is an underground Railroad, on which negroes are carried to Canada; the editor of the Journal keeps up an underground Railroad in his paper, on which Southern interests and Northern rights are to be clandestinely stolen away—on which the South is to be carried away and delivered bound hand and foot, over to Northern Know-Nothings, to find herself in the hands of ingrate enemies, instead of friends.

Truth crushed to earth shall rise again; quotes a contemporary, and stope there. Better and the other line always, or it may not be true.

The eternal years of God are hers.

It may take some of the eternal years for some truths to rise at all. The world is not so careful of truth as to afford any security for its resurrection. Some truths crushed to earth have risen, but how many sleep in the tomb of the past. Bacon says, and he was wise if he was mean, that time, like a stream, bears down upon its banks the light and trifling, while weighty matters sink to the bottom. So, according to his opinion, the weightier truths of antiquity are lost—the lighter only have come down to us. Indeed, we have our suspicions that truth has fared badly in this world of ours. The successful party write history, consecrates its own crimes, and blames the victim of its guilt. Who knows what a saint Cataline would have been if he had had a Sallust to write his history? As it is, his memory lies blackened with smoke at least.

How the FRENCH SLEPT ON IT, AND WHAT THE SLEEP WAS LIKE.—The Turks remained under arms all night, but during the night, the French, who were most of all interested in the result, went to bed and slept tranquilly. A peloton of Chasseurs d'Afrique went out to be patrol during the night, and on the other side of the river found a number of Turkish prisoners, except two men, who escaped and gave themselves up. They were all bound, and the French, who had been told that the Turks were to be quartered in the town, were greatly alarmed. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be along the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

THE COURTS ATTACK.—For some time past rumors have been about each night that an attack is to be made on the whole line to be made on the morrow. For a long while, however, these appear to have had no better foundation, than the fact, which seemed pretty well ascertained, that the French soldiers of Canou's Division, who were driving the winter guard, the trenches towards the east bank of the Danube, the defense of which is the easiest. On the summit rested the right wing of Lippard's army on the 23rd of October, and on the southern side were planted the greatest number of the batteries which mowed down the British Light Guards.

The editor of the Louisville Journal thinks the country in an alarming condition, but at the same time boasts of the flattering prospects of the Louisville Journal. So the country's extremity is his opportunity. When the wicked bear rule the land mours. Just now Louisville is in a striking illustration of this truth.

The editor of the Cynthiana News is busy repeating second-hand lies about the Democratic. Now we have n't time to attend to these retailers. If they have no invention in their own trade, merrily, they must take their ware elsewhere. We agree that the editor loves lying, but he lacks originality.

The Know-Nothing party have assumed the special care of the Bible. Now, why in the dispensations of Providence has this thing been allowed? We know that Job was handed over to the Devil for a time, but why should the Bible be subjected to such an ordeal in these latter days?

The leaders of the mob in this city on Monday were known to their followers by the flash names of Blot, Beelzebub, Whisky Bar, and Red Jacket. It is thought that the first name was given in honor of the editor of the Journal, whom they received with acclamation, when he proposed to burn a church.

The editor of the Louisville Journal has been trying lately to alarm the country about the anti-religious character of the Germans. So far, the public seem to be more shocked at the piety of the editor than they are at the infidelity of the Germans.

We had an interview with Mr. A. Downing on Saturday last, about the letter published in the Flag of the Union. It was written to a friend in Jackson, Mississippi, and not intended for publication. He admits, of course, that his quotation from the Democrat was an error, and that it did us injustice, and says that he wrote only from memory. We are satisfied from Mr. D.'s statement and character that he did not intend to write a falsehood, but trusting to rumors he made no specific statement.

More Light on the Subject.

A BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF BLOODY AND DESPERATE WORK.

OUR READERS understand, we presume, that the battle of Tschernaya was an attempt of a Russian army (60,000 strong) to force the lines of the allies of the Crimean war, which is the boundary, or frontier, of the territory held by the allies in the Crimea. The annexed from the correspondent of the London News is a most splendid battle-piece.

PERSONALITIES.—THERE IS NO BETTER WAY to expose what the self-styled American party North are than to let the world know that they are Abolitionists, pledged to the very measures that the South abhors. Once in a while the editor denounces Abolitionists in the abstract; that is for his Southern readers. But with a consistency that knows no wavering, he finds some excuse to oppose what Abolitionists oppose, and some excuse to denounce men North that they denounce. In this way he betrays, with a persevering constancy, the under-current of his sympathies.

OVER IN INDIA there are but two parties now—the Democrats, who, in their Conventions, speeches, &c., sustain the South, and the Republican party, including the Know-Nothings. Which party has the sympathies of the editor of the Journal?

In short, the editor of the Journal is now united in party affiliation with the enemies of the South, and the malignant opponent of the only party in the free States that stands as a bulwark against the surges of the Abolition flood. We might set down his present course to the inextricable desire to rule America, but the aid and comfort to Abolitionism is only in accordance with the proclivities he has shown all his life. The defeat of the Democratic party in the North now, involves the subjection of the South to the demands of the Republican party, as it is called, or a dissolution of the Union. This is palpable to every intelligent man. The shining sun never made an object pander. Men who have not watched the political movements of the past twelve months may be deceived, but the editor of the Journal cannot be. He knows it.

The other day he wrote a panie-making article on the state of the country. Who are putting the country in peril and agitation—Abolitionists, united with the Know-Nothings. Let them be crushed out by the great Democratic party of the North, and the peril is over. What is the issue?

THE BATTLE OF TCHERNAYA.

A RUSSIAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, consisting of 60,000 men, under General M. A. Rostov, has been sent to the Crimea, to assist the English in their operations against the Turks.

THE BATTLE OF TCHERNAYA.—On Friday morning, the 21st ult., at 4 o'clock, the forces of the Allies, approaching the town of Tschernaya, were engaged in a sharp conflict with the Turks, who had been driven into the town by the English.

THE BATTLE OF TCHERNAYA.—On Saturday morning, the 22d ult., at 4 o'clock, the forces of the Allies, approaching the town of Tschernaya, were engaged in a sharp conflict with the Turks, who had been driven into the town by the English.

THE BATTLE OF TCHERNAYA.—On Sunday morning, the 23d ult., at 4 o'clock, the forces of the Allies, approaching the town of Tschernaya, were engaged in a sharp conflict with the Turks, who had been driven into the town by the English.

THE BATTLE OF TCHERNAYA.—On Monday morning, the 24th ult., at 4 o'clock, the forces of the Allies, approaching the town of Tschernaya, were engaged in a sharp conflict with the Turks, who had been driven into the town by the English.

THE BATTLE OF TCHERNAYA.—On Tuesday morning, the 25th ult., at 4 o'clock, the forces of the Allies, approaching the town of Tschernaya, were engaged in a sharp conflict with the Turks, who had been driven into the town by the English.

THE BATTLE OF TCHERNAYA.—On Wednesday morning, the 26th ult., at 4 o'clock, the forces of the Allies, approaching the town of Tschernaya, were engaged in a sharp conflict with the Turks, who had been driven into the town by the English.

THE BATTLE OF TCHERNAYA.—On Thursday morning, the 27th ult., at 4 o'clock, the forces of the Allies, approaching the town of Tschernaya, were engaged in a sharp conflict with the Turks, who had been driven into the town by the English.

THE BATTLE OF TCHERNAYA.—On Friday morning, the 28th ult., at 4 o'clock, the forces of the Allies, approaching the town of Tschernaya, were engaged in a sharp conflict with the Turks, who had been driven into the town by the English.

DAILY DEMOCRAT.

MONDAY, - - SEPTEMBER 17, 1855.

For Amusements, Auction Sales, and Steamboats, see appropriate Heads.

The Agricultural Association of Clark county, Indiana, will hold their annual fair in Charlestown, on the 26th, 27th and 28th inst.

QUIET.—Yesterday, so far as we have been able to learn, was a very quiet day. In fact, the city is very quiet lately, every day as well as Sunday.

T. F. MEASHER'S FIRST CASE.—It is said that Mr. Measher, recently admitted to practice in the New York Courts, has been retained for the defense of the alleged murderer of Poole.

NEWSBOYS AND ROYALTY.—The English papers mention that among the recent presentations to Queen Victoria was the Envoy of the negro Emperor Faustin I. This distinguished personage is said to be as black as ebony.

THE FAIR.—The Horticultural Society will open their annual fair on Tuesday, the 15th inst., and continue three days. We have no doubt it will prove one of the most attractive exhibitions ever held in this city.

THE OAKLAND COURSE.—POSTPONEMENT.—In consequence of the track being so much cut up by the recent heavy rains, the races over Oakland Course will not take place until to-morrow. There are four entries for the race of that day, and fine sport may be anticipated.

We learn from the Mobile papers that the subscriptions there in favor of the Norfolk and Portsmouth sufferers amount to nearly $1,100. A physician and five nurses were despatched at once to the scene of the pestilence. Four physicians and eight nurses have also been sent to the scene of distress from Charleston, South Carolina.

ANOTHER DISTURGING BOOK.—A life of Hennetta Robinson, the veiled murderer, is soon to be published. We hope that no person who values sound moral, and would rebuke a morbid taste for works of this kind, will purchase a copy of the book or in any manner countenance its circulation. We have been more surprised with volumes of this noxious description lately.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT.—Information was received in this city yesterday of an accident near Asheville, North Carolina, which excited the profound sympathies of our countrymen. The stage coach in which a Mrs. Cain, wife of a lawyer, was overthrown by a Friday afternoon last, when a short distance from Asheville, and all the passengers were more or less injured. Mrs. Cain, wife of Dr. William Cain, late Lieutenant Governor of North Carolina, and a son of a well known man in port, was also somewhat injured, but not seriously. Mrs. Horlick, wife of Dr. Eliza Horlick, of this city, had her shoulder dislocated, and their two daughters and a son were more or less cut and bruised. A gentleman who was a passenger, but whose name has not been given, had both legs broken. The driver was also hurt.—Charleston Mercury 5th.

ARISTOCRATIC HUMANITY.—Very hypocritical and unnatural pretensions to extra humanity generally go together. The Duchess of Sutherland, the greatest London friend of "Uncle Tom," and the leading subscriber to the position of the "Women of England" for the abolition of slavery in America, has just permitted a poor led-riden woman, with her new-born babe, to be turned into the open fields, for the non-payment to her husband's estate of a trifling amount of rent! Humanity, like charity, should always begin at home.

CROPS IN TENNESSEE.—A letter from Smyrna Mills, Tenn., says: "Wheat is so abundant that it is selling at 50 cents a bushel. Corn, which, during the past Winter and Spring, sold at $1 will soon be down to 20 cents; it is now past being affected by the drought. This is the place to live, but milder counsels prevailed, and the very large crowd repaid with order and quietness to their homes."

We think the citizens of the county have manifested great forebodings in this case, which is for the best; but nothing but speedy justice can appear to the public mind and allay the violence of excitement. Let justice be delayed and the law baffled, and for future outrages nothing short of speedy justice need be expected.

NOTICES.

What gives more credit in the sanction of good endorsements, and what gives Hindley's Saraparilla its popularity, is the same thing. No medicine is more strongly backed by recommendations from scientific men. It is this circumstance that gives it such an unprecedented run, greater than any preparation now, or ever before, offered to the afflicted. Bear this in mind, and when occasion arises, try it.

Furniture Buyers and Housekeepers are requested of Mr. C. C. Spencer's sale, at a private residence, on Wednesday evening, September 17th, this instant, at 8 o'clock. The furniture is said to be of excellent quality and durable. Bargains will no doubt be made by purchasers at this sale.

Police Court.—
HON. GEO. W. JOHNSTON, JUDGE.

SATURDAY, Sept. 15.

Two ordinance warrants continued. City vs. James Gregory, breach ordinance. Dismissed at his cost.

Same v. L. Speaker and Davidson, breach ordinance. Dismissed.

Marta McGill was up for being drunk and disorderly. Discharged.

Thos. Leonard surrendered by his bail.

Chas. Loize, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Bailed in $100 to answer misdemeanor, and in $200 to day of good behavior 6 months.

The Lawyer, for charge. Held to bail in $300 for 6 months.

We call the attention of tax-payers to the service of Messrs. T. C. Pomery and Geo. W. Duane.

We return our thanks to our old friend, Col. Jno. V. Norwood, for full files of Chicago papers, delivered Saturday morning.

THE POSTLETT DEBT IN NEW YORK.—Long notorious as emigrant boarding houses, have been in most cases, broken up by the management of the Commissioners of Emigration, in securing Castle Garden as an Emigrant Depot. The Journal of Commerce says the long ranges of dingy-looking and thick peopled emigrant houses, which have so long existed in Greenwich street, now present a most forlorn and desolate appearance. The Commissioners of Emigration have diverted from their former source of revenue, so that in numerous instances, their proprietors have been compelled to close up their business. The reform accomplished has been thorough and universal, saving millions of dollars to the emigrant, removing that influence which was exercised in building up, and strengthening, the system of extortion and fraud, and for which there long seemed to be remedy.

THE ROCK TRUTH DEMOCRAT.—During the last few weeks we have had, at this place, very heavy rains. What has been the result? The surrounding country is deep and dark. The river has risen some two or three feet, but was on Monday evening falling. We expect, however, quite a rise, as the effect of the rains of the last few days.

SUNDAY MORNING, September 9.—Yesterday business was quite lively on the levee, considering the season of the year, the existing sickness in the city, and the fact that the river was still in port.

As we announced yesterday, having ready some pretty good freight, found but many passengers. We never saw so few on the "monarch of waters." The river is now a mere sheet of water, or no person going on the river now. The current of wind will soon set in down stream to our port.

The Highflyer is the St. Louis packet to day at noon, and is a good boat. Captain Wright commands her.

The Sultan went out to New Orleans, on Saturday evening with a very good load.

THE ST. LOUIS PACKET.—In addition to the match quoted above, the St. Louis, New Orleans, and the leading subscriber to the position of the "Women of England" for the abolition of slavery in America, has just permitted a poor led-riden woman, with her new-born babe, to be turned into the open fields, for the non-payment to her husband's estate of a trifling amount of rent! Humanity, like charity, should always begin at home.

ARMED ARRESTED—GREAT EXCITEMENT!

The runaway negro that murdered Mrs. Loyall on the Cumberland mountain, on Wednesday, the 29th inst., was caught at the negro quarters of Mrs. Geo. May's, of New Orleans, and Justice Judge Lincoln, of Louisville, sent for him on the 1st ult., and was taken to Kingston. Our most recent citizens, being in hot pursuit, soon reached Kingston, and demanded and received his body, and brought him back to the neighborhood where the murder was committed. We understand the negro confessed his crime, took the crowd to the spot where the deed was done. A gallows was immediately erected to hang him, but the crowd was finally persuaded to desist and let him be committed jail, for trial at our court, which sits on the 21st inst., at 10 o'clock.

It is said there were six or seven hundred persons upon the ground where the murder was committed, on Sabbath last, and that it took several strong appeals to the crowd to stay the hand of speedy execution. The negro was committed to jail on Sunday night last. Great excitement prevails in the city, and the police force hastened to rescue and execute him immediately, but milder counsels prevailed, and the very large crowd repaid with order and quietness to their homes.

We think the citizens of the county have manifested great forebodings in this case, which is for the best; but nothing but speedy justice can appear to the public mind and allay the violence of excitement. Let justice be delayed and the law baffled, and for future outrages nothing short of speedy justice need be expected.

[From the Evening Edition.]

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15.—Departed.—T. C. Twichell.

Business was a little brisker this morning than yesterday. The Strader brought down a very full load of coal, and sail very fast. Like the other match, this will do quite highly exciting. The amount is understood to be $100.

The day fixed for both matches is the same—Tuesday, the 21st of October, and Post Office Clear the place for the sport.—A. P. Fie.

RIVER AND WEATHER.

THE A. B. CHAMBERS.—This new steamer came down yesterday morning from Cincinnati, and elicited general praise from such as examined her. She is a splendid craft, designed for the Missouri river trade, and don't prove to be admirably suited to the requirements of the river. Both with hull and superstructure, she is unsurpassed, having been constructed of the very best material, with the utmost care, and with every improvement known to the art of shipbuilding.

Hull 21 feet long; beam 35 feet; 55 feet long; with 22 inch cylinders; 7 feet stroke; four 38-inch boilers, 25 feet long. Her wheels are 30 feet in diameter. Her carrying capacity 700 tons draught light, 25 inches. She is said to be the highest freighter known to the river.

Her captain may well be proud of his fine craft, in which he is one of the neatest boats we have seen.

TRAIL TROT.—On Saturday the new steamer Grappler made a trial trip—with music and jollity on board. Her machinery worked well, and the trip was a very pleasant one to all who enjoyed it. The G. leaves today for Memphis. Send down your freight.

PATRONIZE YOUR OWN PACKETS.—If you don't, you'll regret it. Your trade is to increase—not to remain as large as it is. There are two more packets than ever before, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants. The high prices of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced. An unusually large business is doing in "fine-cut" chewing and smoking, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants. The public generally are invited to patronize our packets.

Persons wishing to purchase Carriages are respectfully requested to call and examine stock. Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going forward for export, and manufacturers buy only for pressing wants.

The high price of original leafs have but a small margin for profit in manufacturing, as the prices of "fine-cut" have not proportionately advanced.

Our Buggies, Rockwells, &c., are manufactured exclusively by us, and our experience in the business is almost unprecedent; this, too, at a time when there is an unusual competition in the business, and considerable rivalry as regards prices.

In New York, Kentucky is quiet, for the poorer kinds of which are still drooping, demand limited, and little is going

